Introduction

Each bigger institution for its activity needs a unit to deal with its legal problems. CKŻP, since the beginning of its activity had to base upon the assistance of legal advisors to solve its current problems of organization of various kind. However, not earlier than on February 2, 1945, a separate Division of Legal Assistance and Intervention<sup>1</sup> was created, which was changed into a Main Legal Commission at CKŻP<sup>2</sup>. Actually the Commission started working no sooner than on April 24, when it obtained its own office. On the plenary session of members of CKŻP on April 28, 1945, the Commission activity faced fervent criticism and then a motion for its liquidation was moved but eventually its reorganization “aiming to its more fruitful and social functioning”<sup>3</sup> was eventually decided. We don’t know how the changes within the Commission had been pending, neither we have no data about its functioning within the 2nd half of 1945. At the end of 1945 or at the beginning of 1946, the competences of the Commission were taken off by a Legal Department which was created in place of the liquidated Commission. However, more significant activity of the new institution can be observed not earlier than since spring 1946.

Initially, the activity of the Legal Commission focused on the normative matters closely connected with the functioning of CKŻP, a/o it proceeded to perform the Committee statute as well as the matters concerning immobile property for the emerging Jewish Committees in Poland; rendering legal assistance to the staff of the Committee and its regional offices. As time went by, the objectives of the Committee and then, of the Legal Department developed and covered many fields:

- evaluation and preparation of normative documents, from the very beginning, the staff of the Commission and then, of the Department commenced to perform a statute of CKŻP, which has been eventually approved in 1946; they were also working out of other new normative acts necessary to continue the activity of CKŻP offices; the Department was working out its own opinions and projects of regulations and rules to be observed throughout Poland in respect to the Jewish people (e.g. matters concerning property).
- from the very beginning, the matters re to the (re)gaining of immobile property belonging to the Jewish communities and organizations before the war, for the purposes of CKŻP offices;
- administration of immobile property belonging to or used solely by the CKŻP offices;
- judiciary matters;
- legal advises and assistance for CKŻP staff;
- legal advises for individual clients; they concerned mainly: property matters, judiciary matters, establishing documents, confirmation of citizenship, etc. One of the most important matters for the Department was to register the property of Jewish communities and other social organizations in Poland. Initially, since fall 1946, property matters had been run by the

Branch Office of Vindication at CKŻP called on the session of the Presiding Office at CKŻP on October 17, 1946<sup>4</sup>. It was replaced in mid 1947 by the Office of Vindication and War Indemnities (BRiOW). At the end of 1947, independently from BRiOW, Department of Vindication<sup>5</sup> was called on, which began its activity in January 1948. BRiOW still existed alongside but didn't manifest any significant activity. The major volume of works related to vindication has been taken over by the New Department. This institution made out a special questionnaire distributed in early 1948 throughout all offices of the Committee in Poland, in order to collect information concerning the immobile property belonging to Jewish communities and other institutions and organizations in 1939. Due to organizational reasons the range of those questionnaires was not wide enough and covered practically only those places where the Jewish Committees used to operate in 1948. It is worth mentioning there that then the number of CKŻP offices was much smaller than two years earlier or even in 1947. Therefore the collected material shows the picture of the property of all Jewish communities and organizations in Poland only to a very small degree. Neither was it of a homogeneous character as individual clerks didn't always fulfil their duties in appropriate way; some of them only filled in the questionnaires blank spaces, other ones additionally attached the copies of land property register books. From several places only the laconic lists of immobile property survived, deprived of any details or remarks. The majority of that documentation was collected by the Department of Vindication in 1948, however some of the descriptions of immobile property (mainly the copies of the land property registers) come from the earlier period which suggests that the officers of the Legal Commission and later on, the Legal Department, had collected the material of that kind as early as since 1945. Department of Vindication was liquidated in 1948 and its documentation was taken over by the Legal Department. The Department of Vindication was not the only autonomous unit that was connected with the Legal Department<sup>6</sup>, a Tribunal of Citizens was another one (later on referred as to the Social Tribunal<sup>7</sup>).

The department worked till 1950, in the last period as a Legal Division of CKŻP. A lawyer, Ludwik Gutmach was the first and the longest working manager of the Department as he was running it till August 1948 when he left Poland. His duties were taken over by Marek Stock (from August till March 11, 1949) who was then replaced by a lawyer, Jakub Wilf. The Department of Vindications was in the hands of Henryk Kessler then (1947-1948).

The Office of the Legal Department had its own specific mode of holding correspondence. Having been registered at the Main Office of CKŻP, the letters reached the Department where they were registered again in the journal where they obtained their reference number and divided according to their content (matters). Each matter had its own register number which was also applied on documents. Each file had its own list of matters (successive No, the date of incoming, the reference name of the matter – sometimes the information about the way of dealing with the matter was also attached). The record of matters within the file was usually <sup>4</sup> The tasks of the new office of CKŻP have been defined as follows: „The problem of (re)vindication of the Jewish property is undoubtedly a crucial one, not only because the appropriate solution of the problem will save us from looking for other sources to cover our budgets for a period of long years to come, but primarily in memory and assumed will of our brothers, in order that the property robbed by the Nazi tormentors return to the Jewish community”.

<sup>5</sup> There was also the project in 1947 to call on the Trust for the Matters of Abandoned Property of the similar range of activity, see Legal Department of CKŻP, unit 28.

<sup>6</sup> It seems that in its initial assumption, the Department of Vindication was meant to have a status of a separate department independently from the Legal Department, but eventually it had never been like that.

furnished with numbers not earlier than the last document had been registered in the file so the last document incoming used to bear the first number in the file. A part of incoming general correspondence was not arranged according to the matters but placed together with other documents in the file of general correspondence.

The Archive of the Legal Department, as well as the Principles of Arrangement of Files

After the liquidation of CKŻP the materials of the Department reached the JHI holdings. There is no information about the primary volume of the archive, neither we know if the documents were rearranged then nor scrapped. After 1950, the collection was arranged twice, which led to confusing mixture of documents and almost total effacement of its primary office arrangement. Particularly the second one, which had place in the years of 1997-1998 and completed with an inventory, brought about a completely new order of files<sup>8</sup>. However it hasn been neither consistent nor accurate. The files of similar character were placed in different groups of materials (e.g. those re property matters). The errors in the selection of documents led to the separation of files that refer to the same matter among different card files. New archival units were unnecessarily made out, just to place single letters that didn't fit any already existing files. The number of archival units was excessively increased to 438 units, which have been finally reduced to 197. During the present arrangement I left a part of groups of documents that existed before untouched and re-integrated the file at the same time, particularly as regards general correspondence. The collection opens with organization materials, which unfortunately survived in smaller degree as compared to other collections of CKŻP. The first group contains few reports of activity and a very modest collection of general correspondence re organization. There are very small collections of personal and financial files. The files of the matters dealt by the Department start with a letter V. This group contains several normative documents on which the Department worked (a/o the statute of CKŻP). A definitely larger selection of materials can be found in four successive groups. Two of them refer to the property matters. We can find the following materials in group VI: circular letters and general correspondence related to the property matters. The documentation of immobile property administered by CKŻP and its offices; a documentation of property matters of various social organizations and the like. The files concerning immobile property in Bern arranged in geographical order, as per their location. A separate group contains the files of individual persons applying for the return of their property left on the Polish soil. The Legal Department, having no respective authority or capacity couldn't deal directly with such matters but could render the legal assistance to its clients and direct them to respective and appropriate counsels and institutions. Correspondence prevails in this documentation, sometimes official documents or photographs occur there, too. However, we can find important information in many letters concerning the wartime fate of the senders and their families, some data about their property, etc. The correspondence was coming from all over the world, however the domestic correspondence is quite a modest one. That group contains also collective name lists of people applying for vindication of the property survived on the Polish soil (units 64-66). Group VIII contains materials of various kind related to individual persons. It opens with applications for documents, requests for searching of the sender's relatives, etc. Then, there is also correspondence referring to the people who helped Jews during the war, denunciations for people collaborating with Germans during the occupation, requests for interventions in case of people imprisoned in Poland or the USSR, requests for interventions in the matters of repatriation, requests for taking care of children, graves, and the like. All of those applications and requests were directed to the Legal Department. The last group contains mainly the materials collected by the regional branch offices of CKŻP. Most of them include the documents collected by Jewish Committees and refer to the subject of immobile property belonging to Jewish communities (synagogues, houses of prayer, graveyards, etc.), but there are also materials related to private individuals there. What is worth examining is the correspondence with WKŻ in Wrocław related to the Jews, former German citizens staying in Poland after the war. During the previous arrangement doubled documents were excluded and placed as an attachment to the collection. They have been grouped according to their dates (years) now and they incorporate a separate group (X) of the present inventory.

As for the language, Polish prevails in the correspondence of the files of the Legal Department. As for the incoming correspondence, there is also English, Yiddish, German, French or other languages that occur there. The files survived in generally good physical condition.

After the New arrangement, the archive contains 197 units of 1.5 running metres volume. The collection of the Legal Department in the Archive of the Jewish Historical Institute bears the Call No 303\XVI.

Description of Files in the Inventory

Description of archival unit In the inventory consists of several parts. It opens with a general characteristics of the given group of files. The next one describe the case on its merits, merits, e.g. minutes or protocols, reports, name lists<sup>9</sup>, correspondence, and the like. In some cases a supplementary information has been given in brackets. At the end of the description, information that an index of persons has been attached thereto is given (Index of persons)<sup>10</sup>. As for the description of the exterior part, the first and the last date of a document within a given file is quoted, a way of recording (manuscript, typescript, print, photograph, photocopy), language, form of keeping (loose cards, bound copy, number of pages in the file and eventually, remarks about the physical condition of files. In most cases old Call numbers given during the arrangement of files in the 1990s are also quoted.

Finding Aids

For the purposes of the inventory, indexes of persons for the majority of archival units, including personal matters have been made out (save those documents which contain collective name list) and a collective Index of persons (above 2200 items). Also a geographical index of the places quoted in the inventory has been made out.

<sup>9</sup> In order to make the review of the inventory content easier all collective names have been described as „lists” (name lists, lists of persons, etc), we similarly proceed in case of preparation of inventories of other collections held in the Archive of JHI.

<sup>10</sup> In case of performing an index for the given unit, it is attached under the archival unit No at the end of the inventory, see Annexes – personal indexes to archival units.
