Biographical/historical note: The Moscow State Jewish Theater established in 1919, known by its acronym name GOSET, and the affiliated Moscow State Jewish Theater School (MGETU), together formed a pioneering enterprise which merged Yiddish Art with Soviet ideology and avant-garde ideas. GOSET received much political and financial support from the state during the 1920s. The Theater developed into the most important and after WWII the only centre, of the official Yiddish culture in the USSR, and introduced many innovative ideas about theatrical performance and art. During the 30 years of its existence, some of the greatest Jewish writers, actors and artists of the 20th century have worked at the Theater, including Marc Chagall, Isaac Babel, Peretz Markish and Soloman Mikhoels. Mikhoels was a head of GOSET, and also became a world known political leader. In 1928 GOSET embarked on an extensive and highly successful European Tour. During the period 1919-1949, GOSET produced ca. 80 plays. In 1948, during Stalin's Anti-Semitic campaign, Soloman Mikhoels was killed by the Soviet Secret Police, and GOSET was liquidated in 1949.
