Scope and content: This collection contains correspondence, requests, and reports from the Jewish Center in Romania (Central Evreilor in România). The correspondence relates to forced labor camps in various places in Bucharest, Romania, and to Jewish schools, including a list of 42 women at forced labor at Institutul Central de Statistica. Some letters addressed to Radu Lecca, the General Commissar for Jewish Affairs, by Nandor Gingold, head of the Central Bureau of Jews, concern requests of exemption from forced labor for various Jews. Other requests concern the special taxes for Jews and the Centrala's inspection of conditions in Transnistria. The correspondence of William Filderman, president of the Jewish communities in Romania, relates to Jewish doctors during the period 1941–1943. The collection also includes information concerning Noua Organizatie Sionista and miscellaneous letters related to special taxes; the correspondence with the branch in Cernăuți, Romania (now Chernivtsi, Ukraine); certificates for rabbis; forced labor; clothing and shoes for poor Jews; confiscation of buildings; aid for poor Jews; correspondence concerning the census of Jews; requests for authorizations to allow Jews to travel by train; financial aid sent to Jews in Transnistria;

aid to orphans in Transnistria; aid to needy Jews in Romania; deportations to Transnistria; papers of the Centrala Evreilor branch in Hunedoara, Romania; Jewish schools and hospitals; and authorizations for Jews to work in their professions during the period 1942–1944.
