LEFITZ CHILDREN'S HOSTEL. Proceedings of war crimes trial of 2 staff members of a hostel for the illegitimate (and otherwise) children of Eastern workers in the area of Lefitz. The accused were charged with ill-treating Russian and Polish child inmates resulting in the death of 9 children between 1944-1945. Groenitz was convicted for the charge, but the court found that the children did not die as a result of her actions or neglect. As a result, she was sentenced to 6 months. The other accused was found not guilty. Although conditions at the hostel were abhorrent, the accused could not be found guilty because no medical evidence was called to show how the children died. File includes a plethora of administrative documents from the hostel.
