Historical note

The New Aliyah Party (Hebrew: חדשה עלייה, Aliyah Hadasha lit. New Immigration) was a political party in Mandate Palestine and Israel. The party was established in 1942 by immigrants from Austria and Germany who had arrived in Palestine during the Fifth Aliyah. In the fourth Assembly of Representatives formed in 1944, the party had 18 seats (from a total of 171), making it the third largest party after Mapai and the Left Front. The party's magazine was named Amudim (lit. Pages). In May 1948 party leader Pinchas Rosen became a member of the provisional government. At the end of 1948 it merged with several other liberal parties, including the political arm of HaOved HaTzioni, to form the Progressive Party. Max Kreuzberger (1900-1978) was a prominent German Jew active in the affairs of the Irgun Olei Germania and a founder and former director of the Leo Baeck Institute.
