TITLE: Oral history interview with Yehoyakim Kochavi

DATE: 23 June 1992

PHYSICAL DESCRIPTION: 2 videocassettes (U-Matic), Protection copy
1 videocassette (VHS), User copy

SUMMARY: Born in Berlin to a typical German cultured, educated, and well off family. His testimony is an interesting detailed account of the changing atmosphere on the Berlin streets and in Jews' lives when the Nazis seized power in 1933. He himself was assigned to a Jewish school in 1935. He succeeded to leave Germany in 1939 and arrived in Eretz, Israel.
