

RG-50.120*082

Landshtein, Mati

- 1.01 Born in Warsaw in 1929. Had three brothers. Parents owned a grocery store. He went to a Jewish school.
- 1.05 Describes Germans entering Warsaw; family moved to the ghetto in August 1940.
- 1.07 Describes his life in the ghetto. He left everyday and brought back food for the family. Describes his brother being shot to death on one of these excursions.
- 1.10 Father died in 1942 and he was put on a child transport to Treblinka. He escaped and returned to the ghetto.
- 1.20 He escaped to the woods in 1942 with a group of children. Describes both the Germans and the Polish underground.
- 1.23 Escaped from the forest and worked for two different peasants. Describes his life.
- 1.30 1945, after the Russian invasion, he returned to Warsaw to search for his brother.
- 1.35 Went to Lodz and became a member of a kibbutz. Describes his life and the leaders he had.
- 1.40 In 1947, he went by boat to Israel via France and Italy. Describes his journey. The boat was taken to Cyprus (by the British) where he stayed for 4 months.
- 1.54 Came to Israel to Kibbutz Govrin; describes his life and work. He left and went to Jaffa.
- 2.14 He left Israel and went back to Germany. Describes his life in Fernwald Munich.
- 2.36 Helped by "Chaiyas" to get to Brazil. Describes his life in San Paolo and Rio.
- 3.05 Gets married in 1957 and has two children. He made his fortune as a smuggler of electronics.
- 3.10 After the coup in Brazil he founded a textile factory.
- 3.14 Returned with family to Israel in 1973. Describes his adaptation. He is taken to the army during the Yom Kippur war.
- 3.23 Recaptures his life as a child in the ghetto and how he fed his family.
- 3.45 Describes personal relationships in the ghetto.

3.50 Talks about how the Holocaust experience affected the rest of his life.